hello pack

It is a dark & stormy night.

I need to leave in two hours to catch my plane and I have not yet packed.

I have to pack:

clothes

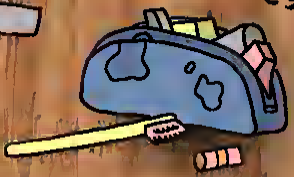
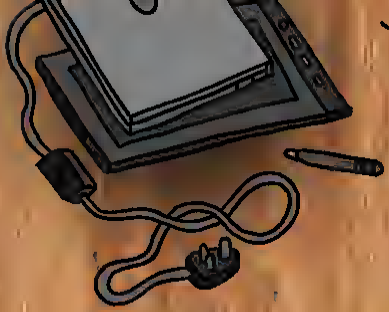
toiletries



laptop & drawing tablet

wallet



e-reader

phone, charger & adapter sketchbooks & pencil case

water & snacks

passport & tickets and they each go in a particular place in my bag.

when you are living out of a backpack you need to pack carefully so that you always know where things are.

But as usual,

my packed bag looks a bit haphazard and I hope I haven't forgotten anything important.
